

REC Management Program for PV System Owners

Congratulations on your decision to install a new photovoltaics system on your property. You already know that your system will lower your electric bill, reduce your carbon footprint and demonstrate your commitment to the environment. You have probably heard a lot about SRECs and that in a number of states the electricity your system generates may qualify you to create and sell Renewable Energy Certificates (REC) that can earn you hundreds, perhaps thousands, of dollars.

There is no national market or single set of rules that apply to the certification process or values. Each state has specific criteria and each state's market is unique. There is a lot to learn and part of our job is to help you understand the pros and cons of the various alternatives available to you.

Under our Agency Services we represent you in the SREC markets. You are not locked in to a long-term contract which may benefit you as the markets mature or as the states increase their requirements for utilities to purchase SRECs.

At USPV, our mission is to Make Solar Simple. We have developed a streamlined process to allow owners of PV systems as small as 1 kWp to participate and receive the benefits of this program. There are no up-front expenses or out-of-pocket costs and virtually no time commitment on the part of the system owner. We do all the work and our fees are strictly commission-based from the earnings on REC sales from your account.
